Housewives Face Social Security Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 59-year-old domestic worker disabled by arthritis discovered recently she was not eligible for Social Security benefits because her employers had failed to pay the required taxes.

Only after the woman showed her employment records to the Social Security Administration, which then forced her previous employers to pay the back taxes, did she become eligible.

A Social Security spokesman cited this case to illustrate what can happen to housewives who employ domestic help — such as maids, cooks, gardeners and handymen — but fail to pay the Social Security tax for their employees.

Figures indicate there may be hundreds of thousands of such employers who become liable for the unpaid taxes — currently 4.4 per cent each for employer and employee — as well as 6 per cent interest on the amount due and a penalty of up to 25 per cent.

The employer is responsible for submitting both the employee and employer share of the tax.

Federal law requires a housewife to make Social Security contributions if her domestic employee earns more than $50 during a calendar quarter. This could apply even to the family babysitter.

"We don't know how many employers and employees should be paying Social Security taxes," the spokesman said. "But we know that in 1965, the last year for which we have figures, 1.27 million employers reported wages paid to household employees covered by Social Security."

"The total number of employees reported by these employers was 1.46 million," she added.

The Census Bureau said, however, that about 2.4 million persons were employed as domestics during January though it did not know how many of them might be earning less than $50 per quarter from an employer.

The bureau said it can be assumed that many more households than 2.4 million employ domestic help since one maid might work in several homes each week.

"We do know all employees and employers are not reported," the Social Security spokesman continued. "The housewife is not like the businessman

Even if she knows the law, she is not used to making records and often considers this a nuisance."

One problem confronting some housewives is the domestic who refuses to work if her Social Security tax is reported because these figures can be cross-checked for income tax purposes.

But if the housewife fails to pay the tax, she remains liable for it because there is no statute of limitations. And the cook or maid loses her eligibility for all or part of her Social Security benefits.

Grounded Tanker Raked By Blast

LAND'S END, England (AP) — A violent explosion rocked the engine room of the stranded supertanker Torrey Canyon today and halted salvage operations.

A Royal Navy spokesman said one man—believed to be the salvage master of the Dutch tug Utrecht—was badly burned in the blast and died a short time later.

Reports that the tanker, which still has about 80,000 tons of oil aboard, was on fire mobilized a fleet of rescue ships and British navy helicopters. They took off the ship's captain, three crewmen and two salvage officers.

The huge blast blew the roof and the floor of the engine room to bits. Helicopter pilots who said they were able to see through the keel said there was no fire but the ship had suffered severe damage.

Surrounded by its own leaking oil, which now covers 100 square miles of ocean off the southwest tip of England, the 61,263-ton tanker lay crippled and deserted. She is owned by a subsidiary of the Union Oil Co. of California.

The ship's tanks were releasing oil in such quantities that all of southern England's beaches were in danger of being ruined for the summer.

No Big Decisions From Guam Talk Says President

GUAM (AP) — President Johnson said today his two days of Vietnam talks on the cloud-shrouded Pacific Island of Guam were instructive and constructive but produced no momentous decisions.

Holding a surprise news conference before he took off for Honolulu and Washington, Johnson said: "We took no decisions of a military nature."

South Vietnam's Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu flew back to Saigon, and as soon as they arrived Thieu announced that before the Guam conference his government had asked North Vietnam to join it in a peace meeting. But he said no answer had been received from Hanoi.

"If Hanoi is ready to discuss peace with us, we are ready to meet with them," Thieu told a news conference at the Saigon airport.

White House Press Secretary George Christian said he had no comment to make on Thieu's disclosure.

Johnson spoke to newsmen in a hilltop Navy officers club where, just seven hours earlier, Premier Ky had made an emotional appeal for united American support that concluded:

"There is no reason that you or other people should impose on us to surrender or accept domination from the Communists. We are willing to fight."

Johnson obviously was disturbed by the attention given to some of Ky's earlier statements which in effect called for sharp escalation in the war and rejected a place at any peace talks for the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

The President said he was amazed that the newsmen gave so much attention to Ky's statement Monday that "even to permit the front to pose as representatives of any segment of the South Vietnamese people would betray the sacrifices made by thousands of Vietnamese, Americans and our other allies."

The President said he has always felt that the NLF would have no difficulty making its views heard at any negotiations. And he said nothing that happened in Guam caused him to change his mind.

Ky Tunes Down
Ky himself toned down his remarks at a news conference before his departure, saying he is ready to talk peace with Hanoi and "if they have the intention to have members of this so-called front of liberation with them, we have no objection."

Conceding that his statement at the opening session of the conference had kicked up some dust, Ky remarked with a grin: "The next time I have to find a better English writer — too much confusion."

In a remark that was widely interpreted as a reference to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., Ky told his news conference:

"I am against those whose course is of their own interests — their own political future or near future — who speak only for themselves and try to blame us in this country."

He said his government is not composed of profiteering militarists who want to keep the war going for their own ends. Instead, he said, they are fighters for freedom.

Birth Of Springtime Gets Snowy Greeting

Reds Flee After Battle Near Cambodian Border

SAIGON (AP) — A regiment of 2,500 Communists hurled human wave assaults at American positions near Cambodia today, but American infantrymen, artillery and aircraft sent the Reds reeling back with 423 bodies strewn over the jungle battlefield.

Under a blistering mortar barrage, the Reds smashed into U.S. positions at dawn, sometimes getting within hand-to-hand range.

For hours, a confusing series of fights swirled back and forth. By midafternoon the Red regiment was a decimated ruin, with one fifth of its men known dead and uncounted more dead and wounded being dragged over the tracks.

U.S. helicopter pilots said the remnants of the crack 272nd Viet Cong Regiment was fleeing an escape route only about 10 miles from the battle zone.

The U.S. Command in Saigon said the toll of more than 400 Communist dead was only an "interim report," indicating it will almost certainly go higher. In addition to the dead, six Communists were captured and 150 weapons were seized.

The battle sent the Communist death toll in Operation Junction City to more than 1,500 since it began Feb. 22.

Mortar Attacks
Many if not most of the Red casualties today came from air, artillery and gunship helicopter strikes that began soon after the Reds smashed into a relatively isolated U.S. artillery camp today. Early reports indicated the initial assault may have carried into the gun positions.

About the same time, a batalion force of about 750 U.S. infantrymen ran into the Viet Cong regiment and the big fight was on. It appeared destined to rank in intensity with such long-range battles as those of the Marines in Operation Hastings and the U.S. air cavalrymen in the Ia Drang Valley.

The Red assault in Zone C coincided with similar attacks in key areas elsewhere. These included four thunderous Red mortar attacks just below the demilitarized zone.

The intensified Communist attacks began Monday at about the same time President Johnson landed in Guam for a top-level review of the Vietnam war. Since then fighting has flared up and down the nation in what seemed like a Communist attempt to cast a shadow over the Guam talks.

Geese Arriving At Seney Find Pools Frozen

BY CLINT DUNATHAN
Spring arrived today on snowy wings, greeted by the curses of winter-weary shovelers and the rumble of snowplows.

About six inches of new snow accumulated overnight in Escanaba, causing slippery streets and highways. Driving was hazardous in almost every part of the state and North Central Airlines cancelled its morning flight because of the bad weather.

The snow extended southward in Michigan to Lansing, where it was mixed with rain. At Detroit it was raining this morning.

If there were any robins around, no one reported them, although the Associated Press gave mention to the return of the swallows to Capistrano in

Milk Strike Leader Hides After Threats

BULLETIN:
DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney warned today that the state will take all steps necessary to prevent violence in connection with a six-day-old milk strike in Michigan.

Dynamite bombings, shootings, milk dumpings and the threat of arsenic poisoning of milk supplies have occurred since the strike began last Wednesday.

(U. P. Strike Story Page 6)
CHICAGO (AP) — Oren Lee Staley's wife and three children were whisked from their home to a secret location Monday night following a telephoned threat against Staley, president of the National Farmers Organization which is withholding milk in 25 states.

The six-day-old holding action aims at boosting by two cents a quart the price paid dairy farmers for milk.

"We're very confident that the available supply of milk is being cut into very rapidly and that the industry is doing everything possible to shift things around. And their supply is getting very thin," Staley said.

Police refused to say where they took Staley's wife and three children, ages 10 through 15, but the family was returned to its Whitesville, Mo., home before midnight.

Staley said only that the caller threatened the family "generally." He said he was not worried because "I have a lot of local NFO neighbors and they will take care of the situation." Staley spoke from NFO headquarters in Corning, Iowa.

Violence Increases
Meanwhile, arrests and incidents of violence multiplied, millions of gallons of milk were spilled and tempers rubbed raw. But effects were hard to gauge. Staley claimed a two-cent-a-quart retail milk price increase in Omaha was an NFO victory, though retailers argued it was merely a market correction after a price war.

Some areas confessed lack of success. "It's not a heavy holding action," said NFO official Reuben Anders in Bucks County, Pa. "We realize we aren't going to dry up Doylestown or Philadelphia." He estimated, though, that the action had reduced the county's output by 10 per cent.

A producer official claimed there were "no noticeable or significant effects" in Philadelphia. And in Milwaukee, two large NFO shippers dropped the holding action.

Million Pounds Dumped
But there was no doubt of the action's success in some areas. Producers said supplies in the Erie-Crawford area of Pennsylvania were down nearly 35 per cent. Dealers in the Cincinnati area said they were beginning to feel the pinch, and voiced thanks that school is out this week. Cincinnati schoolchildren drink more than 50,000 half-pints of milk a day.

The Duluth, Minn.-Superior, Wis., area was getting only 10 per cent of its normal supply, said an NFO source. A large store in Superior reported it was out of canned and powdered milk, due to hoarders.

Wisconsin, the Dairy State, was the scene of some of the most spectacular developments in the holding action.

One million pounds of milk were spilled over 15 acres of a farm near Eau Claire in the biggest dumping action reported so far.

Flying Tackle Downs Robber

DETROIT (AP)—Psychiatrist Dr. Douglas A. Sargent, 41, of suburban Grosse Pointe Park, helped catch a bank robber Monday following a holdup at a Detroit Bank and Trust Co. branch on the city's far East Side.

Dr. Sargent and a bank employee, Nick Lacoursiere, 32, chased the man several blocks before a flying tackle by the psychiatrist brought the man down. The suspect is being questioned by federal authorities.

Hit Steel Plant

While ground fighting flared in the South, Navy planes today made a fourth raid on North Vietnam's showpiece steel plant at Thai Nguyen, 35 miles north of Hanoi. The pre-dawn strike followed 65 missions against the North Monday. No U.S. losses were reported.

toward Cambodia with a hail of air and artillery smashing down on their escape routes.

American losses in the bitter fight, which broke out Tuesday morning, were announced as 30 dead, 100 wounded and three missing.

The U.S. Command said latest reports from the battlefield had the men of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division's 3rd Brigade in hot pursuit of the Viet Cong regiment, which was putting up a scattered rearguard defense.

The 272nd Viet Cong Regiment is heavily laced with regular North Vietnamese soldiers. It was the stiffest battle by far in the 200-square-mile area where U.S. soldiers are pressing home the biggest ground sweep of the war. The troops have stabbed deep into War Zone C in search of the top political and military headquarters from which the Communists have been directing the war in South Vietnam.

Oscar Sundstrom Awarded Medal By Vietnamese

GUAM (AP)—Col. Oscar J. Sundstrom of Newberry, Mich., has been awarded the Vietnamese Air Force Distinguished Service Order Second Class by South Vietnam Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Sundstrom, son of Mrs. Ingrid Sundstrom of Newberry, Mich., is a career officer. He served with the Air Force in World War II and went back into service in 1950.

Currently commanding officer of a squadron of B-52 bombers, Sundstrom has a son, Jon, a student at Michigan Tech University.

He is a brother of Lowell Sundstrom of Escanaba and of E. J. Sundstrom, marine editor of the Salt Lake Tribune.

Interstate Waters?

Nelson Seeks Ruling On Green Bay Status

WASHINGTON (AP)—Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall was asked today by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., to make an official ruling on whether the waters of Green Bay, on Lake Michigan, are intrastate or interstate.

The Wisconsin Department of Resource Development, Nelson said, contends Green Bay is not interstate water and, therefore, should not be covered by water quality standards to be established under the federal water pollution control act.

In a letter to Marshall, Nelson said he is concerned about the pollution of Green Bay and hopes the status of its waters can be clarified so that measures aimed at curbing pollution there can be started.

Nelson quoted a federal report as saying the waters of the Green Bay area, particularly the Lower Fox River and the southern end of the bay, are seriously degraded in quality.

"I feel that the federal report establishes beyond any doubt that the pollutants which are pouring into Green Bay are coming from both Wisconsin and Michigan and that the resulting pollution of that body of water is an interstate problem," Nelson said.

He said if Marshall rules the waters of Green Bay are interstate, the state will have to set water quality standards for Green Bay and develop a plan for the enforcement of those standards.

Coyotes Stir Indignation In The Copper Country

Houghton Mining Gazette
RABBIT BAY—Reuben Aho of Dollar Bay and John Sormunen of the same community just don't relish seeing coyotes kill deer. This was evidenced when Reuben revealed how he and John had been maneuvering in the Rabbit Bay area and came across the carcass of a deer eaten right down to the ribs on one side.

Assured that it was coyotes that did the feasting, both men deplored the situation in that it is the coyote which is the subject of a current bounty removal intention. The men do not approve of this in that a reward for killing such species long has characterized the animal.

The head of the victim was in excellent condition and Reuben is of the opinion that the prey will be visited no further by coyotes because man's scent is on the tract and this will keep the predator from proceeding near the place.

The deer was last year's fawn. It would have made a nice catch for some lucky hunter this fall.

The site is off the Red Rocks shore in an area once considered an excellent hunting region. Of late, however, few deer have been shot in the area and it may be that the overhunting is by coyotes and not humans.

Reuben does considerable hunting and realizes that there is a movement to take the bounty off coyotes. He said that he is hopeful this does not come to pass like it has to the fox and other wild animals.

The Dollar Bay man stressed that the deer felled appeared healthy and in good condition. He is cognizant of the survival of the fittest idea and also the one which relates to the struggle for existence but he is hopeful that, where man plays an important part in dictating the decision, it is better for the man to get the deer than the coyote.

It was indicated at the Houghton Rod and Gun Club meet in the Community building that the deer may have been injured through ice falls or accident in the nearby area. It was emphasized that the coyote eating came as the result of the injuries to the leathern animal.

O'Hara, Black Dispute Votes

DETROIT (AP) — Justices of Michigan's Supreme Court are squabbling over what impact narrow rulings in crime cases have on the public.

Eugene Black, a member of the court, said Saturday that such close verdicts cause the public to distrust the U.S. Supreme Court and Michigan's high court.

The view toward such decisions may be regarded as "outright judicial encouragement of crime," Black said.

But Justice Michael D. O'Hara of the State Supreme Court disagreed.

"Split decisions are inevitable in a multiple-member court," O'Hara said.

"That one justice (whose vote decides the verdict) is just a mortal who gets into his legal shorts one leg at a time, just like the rest of us," Black said. "He could be wrong, terribly wrong."

O'Hara retorted: "A majority prevails in our society. One vote margins are common in the legislature."

Black, a frequent critic of his colleagues, said the single-vote decisions "should be curtailed indeed."

The criticism from Black was voiced at a panel discussion sponsored by Phi Delta Alpha law fraternity. O'Hara was questioned by newsmen about Black's remarks.

Big Barrel Organ Finds Home In West Michigan

HOLLAND (AP) — An 80-year-old barrel organ, believed to be in the second largest ever built in the Netherlands, will find a new home in Holland.

That's Holland, Michigan.

The instrument was purchased by Fred and Harry Neils Jr. of Holland, who plan to incorporate it in their Dutch Village enterprise north of the west Michigan city.

Music pecks with perforations for player pianos pass over a drum. Air pressure from the drum activates the respective pipes of the instrument.

The barrel organ headed for Michigan has 32 notes, two drums and two bells. The average barrel organ has about 30 notes.

Dubbed the "Golden Angel," the instrument is painted white and has ornamented gold figures and flowers on the sides and ends. It is six feet wide, 18 feet long and stands 12 feet high on a trailer.

The organ was restored by Frei and J. Zwan, and its owners agreed to sell the instrument because it was too cumbersome to use in the old, narrow streets of Amsterdam, where barrel organs still are played.

Training Center Graduation Will Mark 5th Year

MARQUETTE — Graduation of 10 Upper Peninsula men, trained as welders, from the vocational division of Northern Michigan University's Area Training Center Thursday will mark the fifth anniversary of the federally-supported center.

The center was established March 19, 1962 to provide educational and training opportunities for undereducated and underemployed workers to develop new skills. There were 58 trainees and a staff of six.

Today it has 241 men and women enrolled in nine different vocational programs and a staff of 37.

Graduation of the 10 welders will bring to 1,531 the number of persons trained in one of 12 occupational fields. Principal speaker will be Albert J. Gazvoda, Hancock, U. P. field supervisor, Michigan Employment Security Commission, and one of the persons responsible for establishing the center's first training programs under the Area Redevelopment Act.

The Milk Strike

The milk strike in Michigan is one of the birth pangs of the industrial age that we're living in. City people who are tempted to be critical of dairy farmers who are withholding their milk in order to create a shortage and force the price up, would be very apt to feel just like the farmers do if they were dairy farmers.

It has been immensely frustrating for our farmers to see their city cousins get increased income while they have struggled along with big investment, hard work, and small income.

Whether or not farmers are withholding their milk, they are all in some kind of sympathy with the effort of the National Farmers Organizations which ordered its member farmers to stop sending their milk to market. Many farmers, however, while sympathetic, are not going to withhold their milk.

There are many reasons for their reaction. Foremost and most practically compelling reason is that they don't think the strike can succeed. There have been milk strikes before. The farmers usually wound up poorer and disillusioned.

The NFO suggests that our farmers should not be second class citizens economically; that their city cousins who spend nothing to create their factory jobs and who bring to them no more skills than are needed for successful farming today should not be so much more rewarded in income.

NFO reasons that if milk or other farm produce is withheld from market that the well-known law of supply and demand will force the price up when the demand exceeds the supply. The strike is a test of this theory.

Before the results are in, however, some things are clear. The strike has already been successful in some degree by bringing to the attention of the public the bitter feeling of the farmers toward their lot in modern America.

Industrial and service labor, under bargaining, has been able to make American workers the best paid in the world. Our farmers may be the best paid, too, because the American standard of living is so high generally, but the farmer income has not matched that of industrial labor in its rate of increase or in the returns for financial investment or for work input.

When the NFO sets out to remedy this situation by withholding farm produce, however, it does not set up a situation parallel to that in the automotive industry or the chemical industry or electrical industry, to use some examples. NFO wants to make it possible for farmers to put price tags on their produce and to make people pay those prices, the way the farmers have to pay the prices posted on the things that they buy.

This will work as long as the public will buy the farm produce at the prices farmers ask. Milk is a fine, needed food, but there are substitutes for it and the NFO has control over a relatively small part of its production. It must hope that non-NFO farmers and milk handlers will support its withholding. This has been happening to some extent, but there have been no large general shortages yet.

Michigan Milk Producers Association, a cooperative of dairy farmers which represents them as bargaining agent with dairy industry firms, has contracts with these firms to guarantee the supply of the milk they need. MMPA supplies about 90 per cent of the milk used in Michigan and most of that produced in the Upper Peninsula.

So NFO isn't dealing with a big dairy industry in its effort to jack up prices for farmers, but with a cooperative owned by the dairy farmers themselves. Through this co-op Michigan dairy farmers, especially downstate, have been able to raise their milk prices to record high levels of $5.58 a hundredweight for Class 1 (bottling) milk. Class 2 milk (for manufacture) is a dollar or more less downstate. NFO wants $6.05 for Class 1 and $5 for Class 2 and it wants the dairy plants to contract to pay those prices under threat of getting no milk unless they do.

NFO, in short, wants to go to the market with milk raised 2 cents a quart and say, "This is the new price." There would not only be a market reaction of less buying of milk and dairy products, but there would be a serious upset of the present pricing system in our dairy industry. This pricing, while it works a hardship on dairy farmers, reflects the level at which the market will buy dairy products, as translated into prices.

GM can put a price on a Buick and we can pay it or not, but if we want a Buick that's the price. Buick, however, never got a government pricing program to assure that GM would be guaranteed that prices would never drop below a fixed point. But there's such a government guarantee for milk. And U. P. cheese is about at support price, meaning that the government won't pay more than the market will for cheese to keep the price up, although it has had to do this in the past. (The result was our big government surplus storage of dairy products.)

The NFO strike expresses the dairy farmers' frustration in an action program, but the action doesn't deal realistically with our economic system. The government could jack up the milk price supports to give farmers more income, but that would buy trouble, too. And interestingly and unexplainedly NFO let the seasonal drop in milk prices reduce the income to milk producers 30 cents a hundredweight since October under the milk marketing orders without taking action.

An ugly side of the strike is the terror methods used to substitute force for persuasion. That can't prevail.

Big Defense

By thinking big the U.S. Defense has managed to outgrow the Pentagon, which is the biggest office building in the world.

By thinking big, Defense is now spawning four new "little Pentagons."

By thinking big, the Defense Department's headquarters and administrative staffs currently total 73,100 military and civilian employees in the Washington area alone — the numerical size of five combat divisions.

Esthetic Forestry Can Help Woodlots

MAPLE, Ontario—The private owner of small woodland properties largely holds the key to the source of wood in Southern Ontario. J. D. Griffiths, a zone forester with the Department of Lands and Forests' Lake Simcoe District, believes one of the major reasons woodlot owners give for not wanting to sell forest products is the fear of destroying their forest, its usefulness and beauty.

Foresters and loggers must work out solutions whereby good forest management practices, commercial logging, and requirements of the land owner for an attractive forest property, can be attained.

"They must recognize that forest appearances are very important to the landowner, and adjust their thinking and practices accordingly," Griffiths maintains. The forester, in marking the woodlot for cutting, and the logger on doing the work, should make provision for "esthetic logging." The landowner should understand that certain forest operations, required for the long-term maintenance of his forest in a healthy condition, may result in some short-term deterioration of the appearance.

The poor appearance caused by logging, can be minimized by revised cutting methods and a small amount of additional treatment. For example, a sug-

Lottery Drawbacks

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Those who argue for the "luck of the draw" lottery—a blindfolded man pulling out names or numbers by chance or a roulette wheel approach—forget Selective Service has a "lottery" now.

Liability is based on date of birth. This is as much a matter of chance as anything you are likely to get in this world. It is almost impossible these days to falsify a birth date.

Since the system calls basically for inducting liable men in a straightforward fashion, beginning with age 25 and moving down, oldest first, no one can juggle the order of call. (Removed of course, are the exempt, the deferred and the men who don't pass the tests. Delinquents, men whose deferments have run out, some married men without children and others come in special categories.)

Some lottery men argue against so many deferments. But whether there are more deferments or fewer or none at all has nothing to do with a lottery. All Congress would have to do would be to change the qualifications for deferment.

There is more fairness and certainty in this lottery by date of birth than in any other system of chance. The young man knows where he stands in line because he can check at what age men are currently being called.

Of course, the young man doesn't know whether he will be called or not—or at exactly what age—well in advance. But no luck-of-the-draw lottery of itself will tell him those things either.

The proponents of such a lottery say it will. They would call for drawings. Those who ar maple top, after the tree is felled and logs removed, is large, unsightly, and blocks walking or even seeing through the woods. If the top is left untreated, it remains this way for several years. About two minutes work with a chain saw can lop the limbs from the top and lay them close to the ground, where the slash will be hardly visible one year later. Also, the lopped limbs can be more readily used, sold or given away by the landowner for fuelwood.

Slash—the accumulation of branches, tops and cull material remaining after cutting—is a necessary fact of logging, but may be reduced by several means. Where pulpwood or fuelwood markets exist much of the larger top wood could be sold. Smaller top wood, in some areas, can be chipped and blown on the ground or used for livestock bedding, mulch, etc. Harvesting in the winter, when leaves are absent, results in a smaller volume of slash.

Lopping of slash to make it lie close to the ground is, generally, the most important procedure. Nature abhors a vacuum and the open area soon regrows in tree seedlings. The costs of lopping vary with the size of tree tops, with the average cost about $1 per thousand board feet of logs removed. It is much quicker and easier for the man cutting the logs to do the slash lopping at the same time. The landowner and logger could make the lopping of slash part of the overall contract. Esthetic logging can include other simple procedures such as avoidance of damage to remaining trees and cleaning up litter afterwards. If foresters and loggers adjust their thinking and practices to consider the wishes of woodlot owners, the practice of forestry and the supply of wood in Southern Ontario should be improved.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

From the Files of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 Years Ago
A 1910 Michigan license plate, the oldest to be turned in, was received by William Ranguette, manager of the local branch of the secretary of state's office here. The plate belonged to Percy Owen, 920 2nd Ave. N. It was donated to the metal drive.

In the most exciting game of the season, the Escanaba Eskimos won their 14th and last game by edging out Gladstone by a score of 20-19. George Shomin and Francis Pryal were the "stars" of the game. The preliminary game was just as much of a thriller with the Escanaba reserves beating the Gladstone reserves, 26-25. Tournaments were scheduled to start next week.

54 Years Ago
March 19, 1917, marked the ninth anniversary of the Escanaba Morning Press (as the Daily Press was then called). The Press claimed that the future held an even larger and more serious work than ever before—that of allowing the Press to increase its scope and approach more nearly the ideal of the publisher in newspaper building.

The chain of F. W. Woolworth's Five and Ten Cent Stores expanded to Escanaba. H. W. Rand arrived in the city from Chicago to manage the new store. The building was recently built and was one of the most attractive in Escanaba.

The proponents of the luck-of-the-draw lottery say that if Selective Service had such a lottery at 18 or 19, then the "older" men—the men who had passed that lottery age—would know they were in free. They could plan for the future.

Again this assumes the Pentagon will know its needs years in advance. A lottery won't determine how many men the Army or the Navy or Air Force will have to have.

Be that as it may, men over 19 would still have as much certainty under the present system as under a lottery by draw if the youngest liable men were called first instead of the oldest under 26.

The problem of what age to call first is a separate problem. The Defense Department, the Congress and the people of this nation will have to decide what they want. It has nothing to do with whether there's a lottery.

If Selective Service drew capsules out of a fish bowl and picked the 24-year-olds first, there would be the same uncertainty as now among the 19-year-olds.

Because the negative response to the artificial two clubs opening is two diamonds, the two club opening can also show certain strong no-trump hands. Specifically, if it is followed by two no-trump it shows a 22-23 point no-trump; if it is followed by a jump to three no-trump it shows a 25-26 points no-trump. Then the two no-trump opening shows 21-22 points and the three no-trump opening is reserved for whatever you want it to show.

North followed his negative two diamond response with a raise to three no-trump (3 plus 23 equals 26).

South finessed the jack of spades unsuccessfully at trick two and West led the ten to set up his eight. South studied the hand carefully and decided to start proceedings by trying to set up a third club trick. He played ace-king and three spot. West discarded the five of hearts. He knew that his partner would lead a heart in any event and it seemed silly to signal.

Sure enough, East led the three of hearts. South refused the finesse. He could make nine tricks without two heart tricks. Then South cashed his ten of clubs. West had to make a second discard.

He could not afford to let a diamond go and he also had to hang on to the king of hearts so he dropped his last spade. South played out his ace, queen and nine of diamonds. He played from dummy. It was possible that West was hanging onto two hearts in which case East would hold the jack of diamonds. But South did not think so. South proceeded to play dummy's ten and make his nine trick with the king.

Ann Landers

Practice! Practice! You'll Not Regret It

Dear Ann Landers: I recall with pleasure the people who wrote to you about how they sang at their own weddings. And then a few weeks later another group wrote to say those people had to be nuts, along with their ministers who allowed such goings on.

I discussed both columns with my friends and some were firmly convinced that you had made up all the letters because people couldn't be that crazy.

It was with delight that I showed these Doubting Thomases the front page of this morning's newspaper. It seems that in San Francisco the wedding of weddings took place. The bride wore black, the maid of honor appeared in the nude and draped herself over the altar. The "worst man" was beatnik poet, Allan Ginsberg.

The groom said his previous two weddings had been Christian ceremonies and both ended in divorce, so now he was trying the heathen route.

If anyone ever accuses you of making up letters please tell them about this wedding—OBSERVER OF THE PASSING SCENE

Dear Observer: A person would have to be psychotic to make up all the letters that appear in this space. If I could not produce a legitimate column out of 350,000 letters a year, I'd quit.

Dear Ann Landers: An Orlando mother wrote to you recently and complained because the high school sent out a call for mothers to supervise students during lunch hour. The mother was indignant — said she thought it was nifty of the school to ask mothers to do the teachers' work.

I am a teacher whose lunch hour must be spent watching children, and it is a mess. I eat lunch on foot (the other teachers do the same). We supervise 180 students.

Our day begins at 8:15 a.m. and we go straight through to 3:45 p.m. without a five-minute break to powder our noses. By mid-day we are exhausted, and an exhausted teacher cannot give her students her best.

I agree with the Orlando woman that mothers should not be called on to work as volunteers. Supervising students is a real job and trained personnel should be employed by the school system to do this work. — WEST VIRGINIA TEACHER

Dear Ann Landers: I am 15. My brother is 13. The problem is our parents. They were born in a foreign country and although they can speak English, they prefer their native language, even in public.

Dear Americans: If your parents prefer their native tongue I see no cause for criticism—whether at home or in public. You will be happy in years to come that you are able to speak fluently in a second language. Practice! Practice! Practice! You won't regret it.

Winning Motor Built By Boys

ROCK — Two Rock High School boys took second place in the student industrial competition held at Northern Michigan University recently.

Brian Nummellen and Ralph Johnson, both 16, built the small motor in the shop at the Rock school with Carl Lackey as their instructor, and placed it in the power mechanics competition.

During the contest the boys were assigned to repair a motor. Speed in repairing counted for half of the score and the written score counted as half. They lost by one point to Pickford. Rock scored 115 points. The school receives the trophy.

Brian, a sophomore, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Nummellen of Rock, and Ralph, a freshman, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tobie Johnson of St. Nicholas.

They are now planning what they will construct as their next project. This is the first time such a contest was held in the Upper Peninsula, although it is an annual affair downstate. The winning team will compete statewide at Cobo Hall in Detroit on April 6, at the Michigan Industrial Education Convention.

Ensigners Plan For Local Achievement

Ensigners 4-H Club met at the Ensign Township Hall recently and selected club king and queen. The winners will be announced at the club's local achievement show or Monday, March 27, 7 p. m. at the Ensign Hall.

The planning committee will meet Wednesday after school at the Thomas Safford home. Committee members are Jean Pajmich, Gail Sundberg, Christine Dominick, and Dan Safford.

Activity reports were presented by Don LaCrosse, cap collections; Jane Ann LaCrosse, achievement decorations; and Donna Rasmussen, talent. Mrs. Glen Lundin, clothing leader, will take charge of Ensigners' style revue for local and county shows. Bonnie Hansen will make transportation arrangements for the county show Saturday, April 1 to Escanaba. The club's last meeting of the winter season will be held Monday, April 3.

Hospital

Mrs. S. E. (Anne) Decker of 416 S. 12th St. is a medical patient in St. Francis Hospital. She is in Room 358 and is permitted visitors.

Tax Delinquency Low In Escanaba

The collections of city, county and school taxes in Escanaba were above last year percentage, indicating sustained favorable economic conditions in the community.

City taxes were 97.15 per cent of a total levy of $416,181, leaving only $11,777 to be returned to the Delta County Treasurer for collection as delinquent, it is reported by City Manager George Harvey in his news report to the City Council.

The 97.15 per cent collection this year in city taxes compares to 96.74 per cent last year in March.

Collections of county and school taxes in the City of Escanaba totaled $451 of the total levy of $941,452, a collection that was slightly higher than a year ago.

Of the combined levies of city taxes, county and school taxes of approximately $1,357,000 it is considered excellent to have delinquency of only $86,684. The delinquent taxes are collected by the county treasurer and a penalty fee is charged.

City Manager Harvey in his news letter also reported that progress is being made in planning for several projects in the city.

The Airport Study Committee has been meeting and it is expected that within a couple of weeks a design of the proposed airport terminal building will be ready to present to the committee for consideration.

The Planning Commission has been meeting almost weekly and is concentrating on proposals from the planning consultants. At present the Survey and Planning Application is before the Commission for review and study.

Related to the city's proposals for downtown redevelopment are considerations for the inclusion of some Chicago & North Western Railway property in an urban renewal district. The city manager said the North Western's facilities feasibility study is now reaching the final stage and a report is expected soon.

Harvey also reported that on April 11 the city's department heads will gather in the Escanaba Area High School to address the government students of Escanaba High and Holy Name on municipal operations. In May the students will "take over" city government for a day as part of their study.

State Parks To Have Libraries

The State Library today began shipment of 10,000 books to 46 state parks and recreation areas in Michigan for use by campers this summer.

Genevieve M. Casey, state librarian, said today. This marks the 19th year for the summer book program.

The books, keyed to the reading interests of all age groups, are made available to campers in the park manager's office.

Parks in this area to receive books include Fayette, Indian Lake and J. W. Wells State Parks.

U.P. Deer Survival Outlook Is 'Bleak'

Reports of deer deaths in the Upper Peninsula's yarding areas increase as the most severe winter in many years wanes.

Joseph Vogt, Conservation Department game biologist in District 3 (Marquette and Delta counties and the west half of Alger) said today that "it looks bleak." There have not been a lot of dead deer found in the swamps yet, but the dead deer checkup after the snow goes is expected rather generally to reveal a heavy loss.

The Conservation Department's report on deer conditions in the 4 U.P. conservation districts in the week ending Sunday follows:

District 1, Baraga: generally fair, cool nights, light snow. Temperatures L'Anse - 7 to 42, Wakefield - 13 to 40. Snow 3.1 feet at Bergland, 1.2 at Even, average 2 feet. Deer actively ranging within yard areas; conditions still critical. Winter Severity Index for Baraga 4.75 for week to total 103 for winter and 8.35 at Wakefield to total 148.4. Deer start to die when the index hits 100.

District 2, Crystal Falls: seasonal weather, cold nights, mild days. Temperatures - 6 to 42 degrees. Snow 1.4 to 1.7 feet, with heavy crust supporting yarded deer. More thin deer seen and more feeding on starvation foods like spruce, balsam and alder. Two emergency cuttings to feed deer in Iron County, 6 in Dickinson. Winter severity index for week 5.25, totaling 102.8 for winter.

District 3, Escanaba: Mild early part, light snow, and colder from midweek. Temperature -10 to 45. Snow 1 foot at Ensign and 2.9 at Chatham, average 1.8 feet. Deer restricted to yards with some benefits of strong crusts in yard and adjoining uplands in getting to feed.

Additional dead deer reported in Dead Horse Swamp, AuTrain and Ewing Township yards. Autopsies revealed: 1 accidental death; 1 poached; 1 fawn killed by bobcat in Sand River yard, Marquette County (with only 30 per cent bone marrow fat where anything under 50 is critical and indicative of famine);

1 starved fawn in Northland yard; 1 unidentified cause but not starved, 6 unidentified cause.

Winter Severity Index 6.45 for week, total 109.5.

District 4, Newberry: continued abnormal cold, with bizzard conditions. Temperatures -5 to 38. Snow 1.5 feet at DeTour, 3 at Grand Marais, 2.8 at Deer Park, 2.6 at Cusino and 2.2 at Naubinway. Deer restricted to trails in yards and crusts not supporting deer.

Three starved fawns found in McMillan yard and 1 in the Stuart's Creek yard. Winter Severity Index for week 6.8, and total 116.6.

UPCAP Tackles Tourism Plan

About 100 delegates, officers and others are expected to attend the spring quarterly meeting of the UPCAP delegate body today at The Surt in Marquette.

On the agenda were the question of the Economic Development Districts which are called for by the Economic Development Administration. Father Louis Cappa of Hubbell will report on the Economic Planning and Development Committee's recommendations on the districts.

Donald Bailey, of the Michigan Office of Economic Expansion, will discuss his office's position on the proposed districts.

In addition there will be a discussion of refunding two program proposals: the On-the-Job Training proposal and the Economic Development Administration (EDA) proposal.

Delegates also were to study the recommendations of the Economic Planning and Development Committee for the implementation of the recent UPCAP - sponsored Michigan State University recreation and tourism study. The committee at its meeting earlier this month in Escanaba recommended that UPCAP take the initiative in creating a preliminary regional body consisting of representatives of public and private groups and agencies to plan a permanent regional structure and develop outlines for implementation of the study. It recommends creation of major recreational complexes across the Upper Peninsula to promote tourism.

Frank Mead, chairman of the UPCAP Fisheries Committee, was to report to the delegate body on the new pilot fisheries plant in Hancock which is now commercially processing and marketing Lake Superior fish species such as cisco, chubs and smelt in an effort to revitalize the Lake Superior fishing industry.

Joseph Tuma, who remains with UPCAP in a part-time executive capacity, will outline the housing and urban development study being made by a consultant firm.

Members of the UPCAP Executive Committee include Harold L. Dettman, St. Ignace, chairman; Lynn Sandberg, L'Anse, vice-chairman; Harold Vanlerberghe, Escanaba, secretary; Fred Hahne, Manistique, treasurer; Mrs. Geraldine DeFant, Marquette, CAA delegate; and Dr. Claud Boeworth, Marquette, university delegate.

Elected

SAN FRANCISCO—Dr. Donald J. Zinn, a marine ecologist and faculty member of the University of Rhode Island, has been elected president of the National Wildlife Federation. Voting delegates from 49 state conservation organizations affiliated with the Federation selected Zinn to succeed Judge Louis D. Peninsula Potpourri

A Minneapolis barber reports a tremendous increase in business as well as certain fringe benefits ever since he threw out his girls' magazines and substituted nude movies in his adults-only shop.

According to The Insider's Newsletter, Darold Shipp's business improved so much that he added a second barber, and he is now looking for a shop with space for five chairs.

Shipp's shop keeps its front window shades pulled and gets $2.50 for a haircut.

One of the nicest fringe benefits, says Shipp, is that he no longer has to give haircuts to squirming little boys.

Iron Mt. Area Milk Strike Active

The milk strike in the Upper Peninsula seemed to have its strongest focus today in the Iron Mountain and Bessemer areas, where the National Farmers Organization has been able to sign up most members for its program of withholding farm produce from markets to force up prices.

NFO's membership in national convention in Milwaukee last December authorized a milk withholding and NFO di-

Sympathy

DETROIT (AP) — A six-day-old milk strike has brought a warning from Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley against conspiratorial violence and sympathy for the dairy farmers' plight from Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman.

Kelley asked prosecuting attorneys to keep him informed of developments in the milk dispute.

Kelley said: "While there is great latitude in the law for peaceful measures which may be undertaken in such a dispute, there is no room for acts of violence."

Meanwhile, Secretary Freeman told a news conference in Detroit that there probably will be more farmer unrest leading to higher milk and food prices.

"This unrest will reflect itself until we have a fair deal for all our farmers," he said. "Farm prices have fallen rather sharply and are lower than 20 years ago. Food prices are up 25 per cent, and farm prices have gone down four per cent in the past 20 years."

Freeman said the average dairy farmer in Michigan is lucky if his income is half the hourly rate of an auto factory worker.

rectors called for its start last Wednesday.

Consolidated Dairies at Bessemer reported today that about a third of its normal supply of milk from about 40 farmer suppliers has been cut off by the strike, with 12 or 15 farmers dumping their milk. The firm reported that its bottled milk deliveries to the public were normal and that the withholding had shortened up only its manufacture of dairy products.

THOUSANDS OF POUNDS of milk have been destroyed daily in Dickinson County since the NFO milk withholding was started last Wednesday by farmers in 25 states. Above, Louis Bilski, left, NFO member with a farm on Pine Creek Road near Norway, watches his son, Alan, pour 1,800 pounds of milk down his milkhouse drain. Farmers are asking higher prices for their milk.

MMPA Normal

A representative of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, which sells the milk of 330 of the Upper Peninsula's 440 commercial milk producers, said its deliveries were normal yesterday. The co-op has contracts with the dairy plants guaranteeing supply of milk. MMPA supplies about 90 per cent of Michigan's milk and it instituted a $1 million suit against the NFO on Monday after disorders had marked withholding of about 10 per cent of its normal supply of milk downstate.

Frigo Brothers Cheese Co.

reported that its Carney cheese plant had lost about 8,000 pounds of its daily supply of about 118,000 pounds, mostly in the Iron Mountain-Norway-Niagara, Wis. district.

Although thousands of pounds of milk are being dumped daily by Dickinson County dairymen to support the strike, there was no shortage of bottled milk in Iron Mountain and Kingsford markets.

Plants Affected
A normal distribution of milk there was reported by the stores. Most of it comes from a Green Bay dairy and is supplied by Wisconsin dairymen. An Iron Mountain dairy reported that it was making normal deliveries to its home customers and stores.

Besides Frigo at Carney, the Iron Mountain area's withholding affected the Frigo cheese plant at Lena, Wis., and the Whitehouse Milk Co. plant of A&P at Stephenson, which makes butter and condensed milk.

At the Bilski farm on Pine Creek Road near Norway Monday morning Louis Bilski and his son, Alan, destroyed 1,800 pounds of milk destined for Frigo's at Carney. That represented his production for two days.

"We're going to hold out until we get the price we are asking or go out of business," said Bilski, who has a dairy herd of 38 cows. "After all expenses of operating are taken out," Bilski said, "three of us, my wife, my son and myself, average 50 cents an hour for our work."

New Prices Listed

Clement Linder, of Waukegan, Dickinson County representative of the NFO, reported Monday that the withholding strike has 100 per cent participation by member farmers and about 98 per cent cooperation from non-member farmers. All are destroying their daily milk productions, he said.

"Linder did not give a figure on the strength of NFO membership in Dickinson County because he said it was the policy of the organization not to

Ambulance For Students OK'd

The first school in the area has arranged for ambulance service for its students with the City Ambulance Service of Escanaba, reports James Schwalbach, operator.

Flat Rock School District's board of education has contracted for ambulance service for its students for a year from April 1 for $125. Teachers are covered by workmen's compensation, explained Supt. Leo Brunelle, and it provides ambulance service, but the $2.50 per child school health insurance which most families buy for their children doesn't provide ambulance service.

A recent emergency in which a boy suffered a dislocated vertebra in a gym mishap prompted the contract. The family was billed $27 for ambulance service and the board thought it was a proper responsibility of the school, which bought service coverage through the summer program as well as the academic year.

Ray Knudson Dies In Ohio

Ray W. Knudson who served as assistant supervisor of the Hiawatha National Forest in Escanaba from 1943 to 1954, died suddenly this week and will be buried after services at Athens, Ohio Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Knudson retired a year ago after 34 years in the Forest Service and was away from his home at Athens when he suffered a fatal heart attack. He is survived by his wife, a son, Glen of Athens, and daughter, Mrs. Richard Carlson of San Leandro, Calif.

Forensics Festival Held At Rock HS

The Rock High School Forensics Festival was held at the school last week. Judges were Leo Brunelle and R. Godmer. Forensics coach is Miss Trudy Kelly.

Receiving superior ratings were Nancy Weldum with a dramatic dialogue, "Drama Above the Clouds"; Cynthia Nisemi, declamation, "Catch a Passion for Living"; and Ellen Bakka, a dramatic monologue, "The Scarlet Ibis."

Excellent ratings were received by Judy Linjala, humorous reading, "Huck Finn"; and Debbie Trombly, dramatic monologue, "Was It a Dream."

A rating of very good was received by Jerry Norkko, radio news commentary; Debbie Kivela, dramatic monologue, "Home"; Dale Weingartner, humorous reading, "Carry Me Back to Yesterday"; Rita Kaukola and Mavis Waisanen, dramatic dialogues, "The Glass Menagerie" and "Six Red Roses."

The above ten students will represent Rock at the district forensics festival in Gladstone at a later date.

Also receiving a very good rating were Sue Leach, Vickie Layman and Mary Kay Kaukola.

Oxford Planning For U.P. Slowed

Annual report of Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. to its stockholders states that the tightness of money generally and the suspension of the 7 per cent investment credit by the federal government have caused a slowdown in planning for the Oxford Paper Co. pulp and paper mill projected for the Munising area.

"Economic conditions late in 1967 will have an important effect on the timing of construction of this plant," the annual report states.

The federal government has moved to make investment money easier and President Johnson has asked restoration of the 7 per cent investment credit.

Oxford, whose planning officials conferred recently with State of Michigan economic development officers at Lansing, announced in mid-1966 that it was studying plans to build a pulp and paper mill near Munising. This mill would consume a large volume of the hardwood pulpwood on CCI forest lands for which there is no present outlet in the area.

CCI's annual report states that production of sawlogs, lumber, chemical wood and miscellaneous forest products total 34.2 million board feet in 1966 despite poor weather during the spring breakup which delayed logging operations. This was an increase of 40 per cent over 1965.

Forrest Center sawmill production increased 14 per cent over 1965 and totaled 15.1 million board feet. "Demand for our Northern dense hardwood lumber continued strong and at increased prices throughout the year," CCI reported.

The beginning of the two-projector family

It's a pain in the neck for a guy to set up his big projector to look at a handful of slides.

Phew, the thought of lugging it around is enough to make any guy hold his slides up to the light.

Ahhh, but GAF has something new that's almost as easy. The Anscomite® 100 projector (that's small enough to fit in a gadget bag.)

Plug it in. Click it on. Focus... already he's showing his slides.

Sure, he has to go through the same motions, but there's a lot less rigmarole with the Anscomite 100.

After all, it's a portable 1-pounder. The slides go through nice and easy on a six-slide holder, or one at a time. And instead of that little peak-a-boo he gets with a viewer, the Anscomite 100 projects big sharp pictures up to 4 feet in width.

It's the kind of thing he'd want to use when he gets his slides back from the finisher. Or when he takes them in to show the guys at work.

You know, "instant" shows.

Right now we have the Anscomite 100 sitting out for you to tinker around with and see how it works. For $14.95 (that's right, $14.95) your budget won't have any trouble affording it and for the convenience it gives, you'll wish you had it years ago.

Sure, it's nothing like the big elaborate thing you have up in the closet, but it's a lot easier to get around with.

Pocahontas Is Called Bigamist

NEW YORK (AP) — Pocahontas, that beautiful Indian princess of American folklore, was a bigamist.

Not only that, she had enough aliases to do credit to a confidence man. Pocahontas means "playful one."

And contrary to popular belief and the history books, she did not save Capt. John Smith's life.

All this disillusioning information comes from the U.S. Travel Service, a division of the U.S. Department of Commerce, in an attempt to create interest in British-American tourism on the 350th anniversary of the Indian princess' death.

But, publicity gimmick or not, it appears that Pocahontas wasn't all she's cracked up to be.

The travel service said it found that when Pocahontas married John Rolfe, she hadn't divorced her Algonquin Indian husband — and never did.

She was baptized, and settlers felt there was no need for her to be divorced from a man they considered a heathen.

Pocahontas was called Pocahontas only in history books. Indians called her Matoaka, those present at her baptism called her Rebecca, and members of King James' court, smitten by the Indian lady, called her Lady Rebecca.

Although Smith knew Pocahontas, the travel service said, the rest of the story about their relationship was strictly the dream of a 17th century public relations man who wanted to romanticize Smith's voyage to the New World.

In any event, Smith did nothing to dispel the story and actually came to enjoy his reputation as a living example of Indian compassion.

So far as the rest of the travel service version of the story goes, Pocahontas died of smallpox in England on March 10, 1617 and was buried in the graveyard at Gravesend Church in London.

The church underwent renovation in the 19th century and some of the headstones got mixed up. So the exact location of the grave remains a mystery.

Big Fish Sought In Early Season For Steelheads

By BOB VOGES

LANSING (AP) — Trout fishermen with guts enough to brave the cold water and chilly weather should get some record catches of steelheads with this season's opener.

More than 100 lakes and streams will be open water for the migrating steelheads and the occasional brown trout among them as of April 1.

"There should be some of the best steelhead catches in the last decade," said Jack Bails of the Conservation Department's Fish Division.

Seven or eight pound steelhead is figured around average. But trout up to 19 pounds were caught during the runs last spring.

The steelheads head upstream to spawn in rivers and streams connecting from Lake Michigan, Superior and Huron.

Big Fish In North

A safe rule of the thumb is the farther north the fisherman ventures, the better this chance of getting a trophy fish.

Some good catches have been taken, however, from the lower ends of the Grand, Muskegon and St. Joseph Rivers.

The Manistee, Platte, Pere Marquette, White and Pentwater rivers also are popular. Almost every steelhead fisherman has his favorite.

First steelhead runs will start in the northern Lower Peninsula, then gradually work north to the Upper Peninsula as the water warms. The spawning steelheads show up in greatest numbers after a long rain.

Fishermen have found salmon or trout eggs the best bait for the steelheads. Some stick to artificial lures or other live bait.

Feed On Alewives

Two main developments are credited with providing the increasingly better and bigger steelhead runs.

Thinking Of Son, Dying Of Cancer, Driver Kills Tot

DETROIT (AP) — "I was thinking about Gary. I couldn't tear my mind away from him."

Mrs. Mattie Waters, 40, of Detroit made the comment after her car struck and killed 5-year-old Sheila Ann Peacocks last Friday as the little girl alighted from a school bus in suburban Belleville.

Mrs. Waters had been on her way to a hospital to visit a son, Gary, 10, ill with cancer for the past 18 months. Gary died in a hospital Monday.

Baptist Minister Dies; Had 3 Wives And 34 Children

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A minister whose three wives bore him 34 children died Saturday at Strong Memorial Hospital here after an illness of two weeks.

He was the Rev. Willie L. Anderson, 62, pastor of St. Luke's Missionary Baptist Church in Rochester for more than 20 years.

The Rev. Mr. Anderson, twice a widower, fathered 22 sons and 12 daughters, including one set of twins. The eldest child is 37 and the youngest 3½.

Before coming to Rochester, he served churches in Cleveland, Ohio, his birthplace; Thomasville, Ga.; Tallahassee, Fla., and Niles, Mich.

Grover Cleveland was the only U. S. president to ever deliver his inaugural address extemporaneously.

White Pine To Cut Development

Need to reduce operating costs has forced a slowdown in the $100 million expansion program of the White Pine Copper Co. at White Pine in Ontonagon County.

The huge expansion program was begun in July of 1965 and was to have been completed by 1970.

James Boyd, president of Copper Range Co., which owns White Pine Copper Co., said 1967 "will be devoted to reducing costs," and expansion will be halted. Boyd told of the pause in the program in the Copper Range annual report.

The first part of the expansion program, a $5.5 million furnace, has been completed and is in operation. Other work, including a new milling section, also has been completed. A new 1,600 foot shaft is nearing completion.

There is a great deal of work ahead of the White Pine staff to consolidate gains and improve efficiency through new methods, recruitment and training programs," Boyd said. "We have decided to defer the next step in expansion to provide more time to arrive at the best solutions to the many problems with which we are confronted."

Boyd did not say what the next step was, but a company official said a new milling section that had been planned for 1967 was the project that was being deferred.

"The year 1966 was a difficult one for White Pine," Boyd said. The company ran into lower grade ore and the mill was operated above its rated capacity and it was impossible to process more ore to compensate for the drop in grade, he explained.

Mining difficulties were also caused by a fault (a fracture of the earth's crust), Boyd said. Boyd did not say what the new target date was for the completion of the expansion program. Another company official indicated, however, that the halt in the program would last no longer than a year.

Despite the problems at White Pine, Boyd called the mine "one of the most exciting copper mines in the world."

"We should be able to look forward to continually expanding operations in the future, rather than to the decline that most mines undergo as they become deep and of lower grade," he said.

owners hoped would be a last appearance for the season.

Except in the state's "deep south" where it was raining, there was snow enough to cause dangerous driving. An unofficially reported eight inches of snow fell in Alpena and snowplows had tough sledding in clearing roads there, road men reported.

Sunshine Promised
One corner of the Upper Peninsula — the Calumet area — was reported by State Police to have escaped the storm. Roads were dry there, they said.

There is the prospect of more spring-like weather conditions in store, however, reports the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Beginning Wednesday the weather will turn sunny and warm across Michigan, with partly cloudy and mild conditions forecast for Thursday.

The Weather Bureau said it will be clearing and cooler today, with temperatures falling to 18 to 26 degrees in the U.P. tonight.

But the promise of sunshine tomorrow could be just what Weather Doctor ordered to ease the bruises caused by the persistent blows of Old Man Winter.

Escanaba Boys Admit Entering Church, Schools

Two Escanaba boys, both 16, were being questioned today by city police in connection with a series of breaking and enterings of schools and churches in the city.

Officers said the youths admitted entering the Escanaba Area Junior High School cafeteria more than once, and the St. Patrick's school and St. Joseph's Church basement. The latest breakings and enterings, accompanied by malicious destruction of property, occurred the past weekend.

They were picked up after an officer found a piece of fabric from a coat at one of the burglaries and associated it with a garment worn by one of the boys. Officers said the boys told them they went from St. Patrick's school to the St. Joseph Church to the cafeteria in their round of entries. At each place they broke bottles and dumped food on the floor.

The boys were referred to Delta County Juvenile Court, charged with breaking and entering and malicious destruction of property.

MANISTIQUE Manistique Marine Killed In Viet Nam

Pfc. Joseph Jenks, 22, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jenks of Intake Park Road, was killed in combat in Viet Nam March 15, his parents were advised by Marine Corps officials Monday night.

He was a graduate of Manistique High School where he played football. He had attended Northern Michigan University for one and a half years before entering service.

His Marine training was at Camp Pendleton, Calif., and he had been overseas since Jan. 1. He had been in service since last July.

Pfc. Jenks was born April 5, 1944, in Sault Ste. Marie.

Old Swedish Newspaper Is Given Lodge

A copy of the Swedish newspaper, Harold, published in Manistique and dated Dec. 31, 1903 was presented by Arthur Hough of the Barnes Hotel to the Runeberg Lodge. All but one attending the lodge meeting at the Agner Delhin home Saturday was able to read the paper.

The Lodge has adopted a resolution of appreciation and has presented it to the Schoolcraft Historical Society. As the paper is 63 years old, it is a golden brown in color and brittle. Nettie Steffenson, who later was married to Carl Thorborg was listed as the "outgoing" or publisher.

Merchants advertising in the paper, all written in Swedish except one column on the front page, included Rose Bros. department store, in a fine building located where the Ford garage now is, Frank Peterson Co. Central Market, the John A. Falk store, in the present Shunk Appliance building, A. M. LaRoy's C-L store, Winkelman's, Putnam Drug, and Anderson and Parker's Midway Grocery. Various treasurers of government units also published reports in the paper.

The issue contained a column of news from Gladstone, an article on Ed Ashford, county abstractor, and other news of the Swedish community.

Price of the paper was $1 for one year, 60 cents for a half year and $1.50 sent to Sweden.

Union Services Planned For Friday, Sunday

A community Good Friday service sponsored by the Manistique Ministerial Assn. will be held in First Baptist church from 1 to 3 p.m. Friday and a community Sunrise service will be held Sunday at 7 a.m. in Zion Lutheran Church.

Theme of the Good Friday service will be the Seven Last Words of Christ. Participating clergymen will be the Revs. Roy Pitts, William Kelsey, Ingmar Levin, Robert Haring, Ralph Hill and L. D. Coxon.

Rev. Haring will speak at the Easter Sunrise services and Rev. Levin will be liturgist. The Zion Choir under direction of Mrs. James Fyvie will sing.

Church Events

A Delicious Visit From Easter Bunny

This year let the Easter Bunny call on the children in your family in a new and special way. Have him appear as a dessert in the form of a Bunny Face made with fresh pineapple and bananas, framed by a bed of green tinted coconut for Easter grass.

Not only will the children be delighted at the surprise visit from their "special friend," but they will thoroughly enjoy eating this light, tasty fruit combination of tart-sweet pineapple and mellow bananas.

There's no harm in the whole family enjoying this pictorial treat, but if you would rather not, simply combine the sliced bananas with chunks of pineapple and top with green tinted coconut and a maraschino cherry.

Although you may choose to use canned pineapple, this time of the year is excellent for finding fresh Hawaiian pineapples at the grocers.

EASTER BUNNY PINEAPPLE
1 1/2 cups flaked coconut
1/2 drops green food coloring
1/2 teaspoon water
4 slices of pineapple, fresh or canned
2 bananas
4 pecans
4 maraschino cherries

First tint coconut. Mix food coloring with water in a large glass jar, or a mixing bowl. Add coconut and shake (if using jar) or toss with forks (if using a mixing bowl) until color is evenly distributed.

Place about 1/2 cup of coconut on each of 4 serving plates. Put pineapple slices on coconut. Cut bananas in half lengthwise, then crosswise. Set two pieces at the upper arc of the pineapple slice to look like ears. Cut maraschino cherries in half. Use one half for each eye. Put pecans in place as "snouts." Makes 4 servings.

Dear Heloise:

I have some new draperies that are unlined. The label on them said that they were guaranteed not to shrink over two per cent when washed. Would you tell me what this means? How much can I expect them to shrink?

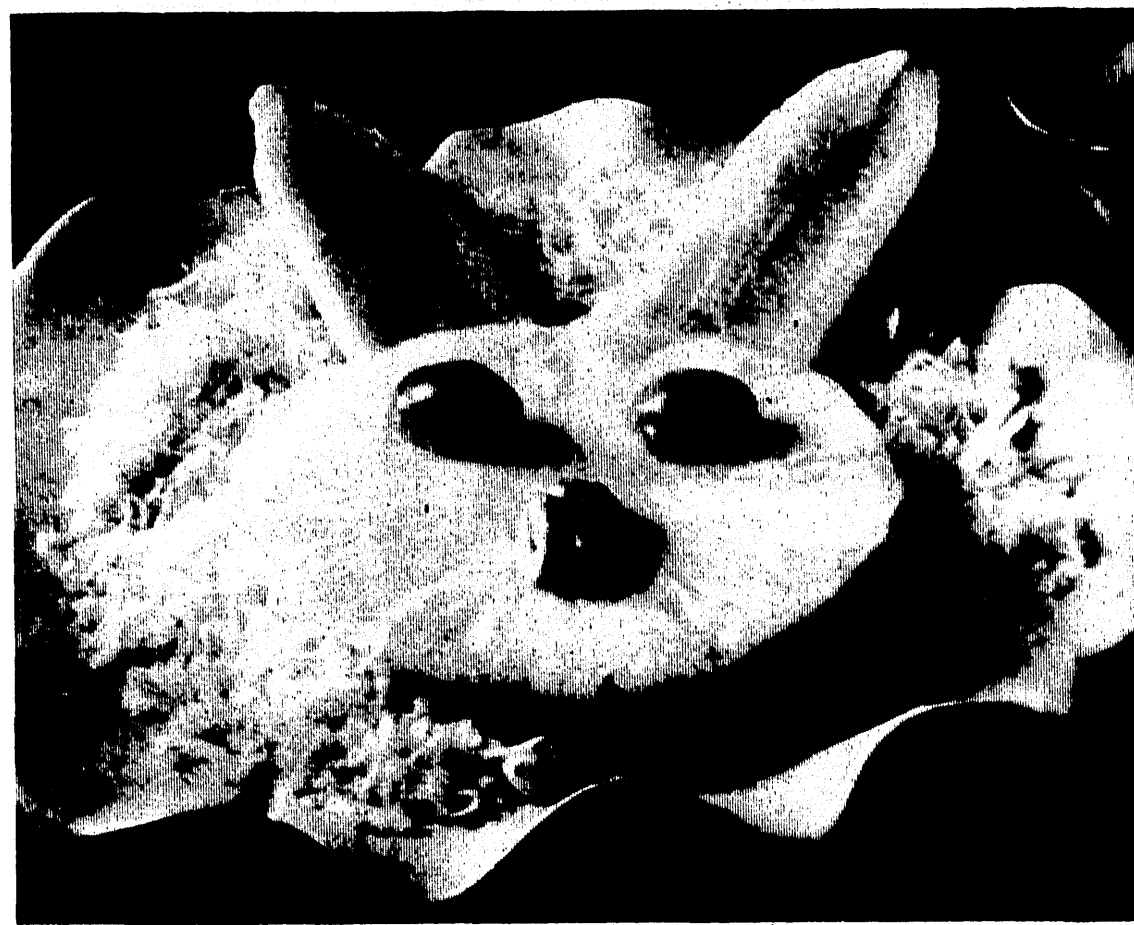

H. H.

Dear H. H.:

If it says they are "guaranteed not to shrink over two per cent" (and this is residue shrinkage), you can look forward to them shrinking three-quarters of one inch for each yard of material.

Example: If your draperies are two and one-half yards long you can figure that they will shrink approximately two inches.

Heloise

A DELICIOUS visit from the Easter Bunny will be made by this special pineapple treat. A light and good tasting dessert, it will be the highlight of a child's day.

Special Good Friday Service In Rapid River

Calvary Lutheran Church and the Congregational Church of Rapid River will present a Tenebrae service on Good Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Calvary. This service has been prepared by the Calvary choir under the direction of the pastor. Members of Calvary and the Congregational church will have speaking parts. "Tenebrae" is the Latin word meaning "shadows." This service of narration and music arranged by Paul Hamill is an adoption of the ancient Tenebrae service. The gradual extinguishing of the candles and darkening of the sanctuary symbolizes the Passion of Our Lord.

At the close of the service only one candle remains burning. This is removed for a short time, symbolizing Christ's three days in the tomb. The light is then returned and spreads its light through the disciples, symbolized by the choir.

Members and friends of both congregations are invited to attend this service.

THE BIG INCH

The ruled box above is a one-inch ad. It measures one column wide by one inch deep. It costs advertisers $1.40 or less, depending on volume per week. It looks kinda lonesome by itself. But look at it this way.

What you get when you buy a one-inch ad in The Escanaba Daily Press is not just a single inch of space in the paper, but one-inch multiplied by more than 10,000 copies doily.

So you're really buying more than 10,000 inches, which at 168 inches a page would be same 58 pages of printed newsprint.

That's a mighty big chunk of space for a cost of only $1.40. And that price includes delivery to the reader's front doorstep.

Just imagine the cost of reaching all these Doily Press families by post-card. It would amount to more than $400.00 just for the postage. But the Daily Press does it for $1.40 (or less) per inch.

So you can see that a little one-inch ad is really a pretty BIG Inch when it's advertising space in The Escanaba Doily Press. And the figures show that it's the most effective and economical way possible to let people in this entire area know that you have wares or a service that they could use.

Call 786-2021 and let a Daily Press representative show you how a little BIG inch can wake up sales for you.

The co-captains of this year's Northern Michigan University basketball team will be in action in the Upper Peninsula-Northeastern Wisconsin Amateur basketball tournament at Hermansville Saturday night. . . . Con Yagodzinski, 6 foot 5 inch forward from Holy Name, and Bill Koski, the veteran guard from Champion, are members of the McNeil Oiler team from Crystal Falls. . . . Malcolm McNeil's team will meet Waukegan Bowl Saturday night at 8.

Paul Miller, Escanaba's 6 foot 1 inch senior guard, greatest scorer in the school's history, was named to the Detroit News All-State Class A first team. . . . Wakefield's Al Inkala was the only other U. P. player to land a first team berth, making the honor team in Class C. . . . U. P. athletes receiving honorable mention were Jon Christie of Soo in Class A, Gerry Gerard of L'Anse and Phil Jose of Houghton in Class C, Kim Peterson of Treenary, Terry Conrad of Ewen and Tom Tellefson of DeTour in Class D.

Jack Finn, former Escanaba athlete and current football coach at Battle Creek Central, was honored as Michigan High School football coach of the year at East Lansing Saturday. . . . Finn, whose football team won the Michigan Class A championship with a perfect 9-0 record last fall, will be one of the speakers at the Escanaba Coaches Clinic here March 31-April 1.

Ewen's Terry Conrad closed out his impressive senior season with 611 points for the Bulldogs who battled their way to the state Class D finals before bowing to Flint St. Matthew, 75-67. . . . The 6 foot 9 inch senior wound up as the second leading scorer in the Upper Peninsula this season as Gerry Gerard of L'Anse tallied 624.

Pat Miller, the splendid 6 foot 3 inch guard on Menominee's state Class B title winning team, finished with a brilliant 28 point scoring performance in the championship game against Willow Run. . . . Miller, topping 1,000 points in his career with another season to go, tallied 498 points this year. . . . Miller became the greatest scorer in Menominee basketball history this season, completing the regular season with a career total of 895 points and adding 163 in seven tourney games for a 1,058 total to date.

Coach Bob Krysiak and his Maroons wrote a fabulous success story this season. . . . Use of an ineligible player in some of their early games cost Menominee four victories over Iron Mountain, Kingsford, Marquette and Ishpeming. . . . In addition, the Maroons had been nailed twice by the powerful Escanaba Eskimos, spilled twice by arch rival Marinette Central and once each by Holy Name and Peshigo in the regular season. . . . That put Menominee at 6-10 entering district tournament competition.

Once out of the regular season gate, the Maroons raced like thoroughbreds through district, regional and state tournament competition to the big prize in East Lansing. . . . Their tournament foes were Kingsford and Iron Mountain in the district, Ironwood and Ishpeming in the regional and Standish-Sterling, Lansing O'Rafferty and Willow Run in the state.

Rival coaches will have little reason to rejoice at Menominee's graduation losses this season. . . . The Maroons were loaded with young ball players, including two sophomores and a junior in their starting lineup. . . . The junior was Miller, one of the best all-around players in the Peninsula, while the sophomores were Dave Harlund and Dewey Bellisle. . . . Krysiak also had three sophs and five juniors on his bench.

Catch Babe Ruth?

Mays Is Silent About Homeruns

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Willie Mays shrugs off the suggestion that he may be the one to break Babe Ruth's lifetime record of 714 home runs. "I don't even want to talk about home runs," the San Francisco Giants' centerfielder said today. He is his first homer of the spring Monday as the Giants beat the Chicago Cubs 9-6.

Spartans Split Two Ball Games

MIAMI (AP) — Michigan State's baseball Spartans split a doubleheader Monday, losing the first game 8-5 to Rutgers and winning the second 11-3 over Miami.

Figuring in the victory were two Spartan notables from the school's Big Ten Champion football and basketball teams. Pitcher Dick Kenney, who works the football season as a barefooted place-kicker, went all the way for the victory.

MSU basketball player Steve Rymal, playing ninth triple play in addition to knocking in two runs with a single earlier in the inning.

Going into the ninth, the game was tied 3-3.

With one out, Kenney, Rick Jordan and Bill Stuckey assembled singles before Tom Hummel walked to kick off the Spartan scoring. John Walters grounded out but knocked in another run against Miami.

Miami catcher George Manduro, attempting to cut down a MSU stolen base, threw the ball into center field and another run scored.

Harry Kentrick singled in two, Tom Ellis doubled and Rymal singled to drive in the final two runs.

In the first game, pitcher Dick Litwiler was the loser. He came in after Mickey Knight and Bob Peterson.

Rutgers overcame a two-run deficit with a five-run second inning off Spartan starter Peterson.

Conrad Lands All-State Berth On Class D Squad Picked By Michigan AP

By The Associated Press

A pair of tall and talented seniors lead the Michigan Associated Press Class D All-State basketball squad.

Terry Conrad of Ewen, who stands 6 feet, 9 inches, is the tallest player on the 10-man squad. John Marconi of Lawrence, at 6-5, is the second tallest.

Conrad, a coach's dream from the Upper Peninsula has averaged more than 25 points a game and scored 66 in one tilt this year. He was the main reason Ewen was ranked No. 1 in the final AP High school basketball poll.

Marconi averaged 23 points a game and 19 rebounds. John Speria of Flint St. Matthew is the only junior on the team. The 5-10 guard averaged 28 points a game in leading his team to a winning season.

Bruce Caswell of North Adams, a 5-11 forward, played his third year on the varsity and averaged 13 points a game. A nearly all-A student, he was considered a playmaker and sparkplug.

Denny Drake of Adrian Catholic Central also stands 5-10. He averaged 16.6 points a game.

The Class D team is rounded out by Randy Lyons of Kingston, a 6-foot senior who averaged 22 points a game, and Paul Storva, a 6-foot-2 senior from Flint St. Matthew.

Named to the AP's Class D honorable mention list were Don Besonen of Trout Creek, Kim Peterson of Treenary, Ted Holiska of Mass and Randy Fochesato of Hermansville.

Two Boys Earn Tourney Titles

Bob Gauthier retained his Junior Boys championship and Kim Dufour won the Intermediate crown in the annual city table tennis tournament at Club 314, sponsored by the recreation department.

Gauthier downed Dave Moberg, Jim Kennedy and Bill Dubord to reach the finals where he defeated Bill Baum, 21-15, 21-19, 14-21 and 21-17.

Baum eliminated Jerry Robitaille and Bob Stacey to reach the finals. Stacey took third place and Dubord fourth.

Dufour, eligible to compete in the Junior division, stepped up into the older class and gave his foes a quick lesson in the finer points of the game.

He defeated Dennis Weber and Bruce Erickson to reach the title match in which he blanked Bill Pelton 21-10, 21-17 and 21-11.

Pelton advanced with wins over Jim Derouin and Scott Stade. Third place went to Bruce Erickson and fourth to Stade.

Senior Men's competition will begin at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday with entries accepted up to starting time. The Girls' division will be played Thursday at 6:30.

The annual pocket billiards tourney will begin Saturday, March 25, at 1:30 with the Junior Boys division. Intermediate will play March 27 and the Men's Senior and Girls' Open competition is slated March 29.

Senior Men's competition will begin at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday with entries accepted up to starting time. The Girls' division will be played Thursday at 6:30.

The annual pocket billiards tourney will begin Saturday, March 25, at 1:30 with the Junior Boys division. Intermediate will play March 27 and the Men's Senior and Girls' Open competition is slated March 29.

Folley, a mild, stolid, modest man, almost has to be prodded to comment on the fight. He now says, "I will beat him by decision or knockout. I will be the next champion Wednesday night."

He says it as if making a memorized speech. A pro 13½ years and unbeaten in his last 12 fights, Folley has a 74-74 won-lost-draw record in his career.

There's still some in Lou Burdette's legs too. The 40-year-old pitcher, now in his 20th year of professional baseball, made his first exhibition game appearance Monday and beat out a bunt single.

Burdette's right arm appeared to be just as strong as his legs as he worked two innings and allowed only an infield hit in California's 6-2 victory over Cleveland at Palm Springs, Calif.

In other games, rookie Mike Epstein's three-run homer gave Baltimore a 4-2 victory over Cincinnati, San Francisco outslugged the Chicago Cubs 9-6, St. Louis topped Philadelphia 4-2, Boston nipped Pittsburgh 4-3, the Chicago White Sox beat the New York Mets 7-4, the New York Yankees edged Los Angeles 7-6 and Detroit downed Atlanta 5-4.

The Washington Senators didn't play, but they got some good news — pitcher Camilo Pascual signed, ending a 28-day holdout.

The veteran right-hander, who wanted the reported $46,500 he received last season with Minnesota, came to terms for an estimated $42,500.

Marcelino Lopez worked the first five innings for California, which ended a five-game losing streak. Jim Fregosi, Rick Reichardt and Jose Cardenal each collected a single and double for the Angels.

Epstein's homer came off Billy McCool in the fourth inning at Tampa, Fla., and tagged McCool, who is hoping to become a starting pitcher, with his third exhibition loss. Frank Robinson tripled and singled for Baltimore.

Willie Mays hit his first exhibition homer and extended his hitting streak through 10 games in San Francisco's victory over the Cubs at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Mike Shannon belted a two-run homer and Orlando Cepeda got two doubles and a single in leading St. Louis past Philadelphia at St. Petersburg, Fla., for the Cardinals' fourth straight victory.

Don Lock homered with one on for Philadelphia.

Tony Horton, fighting George Scott for Boston's first base job, homered, doubled and singled, in the Red Sox' defeat of Pittsburgh at Winter Haven, Fla.

Don Demeter also contributed a two-run double to the Boston attack.

Manager Figures Folley Ready; He's One Of Few

NEW YORK (AP) — Zora Folley's manager says the heavyweight challenger's greatest moment in the ring so far has been his knockout of Britain's Henry Cooper in 1961.

"Zora is ready now and in the same mental and physical condition for Cassius Clay as he was for Cooper," said Bill Swift, Folley's manager, today.

"Cooper had beaten Zora in 10 rounds in 1958," said Swift. "When they met again in December of 1961 in London, Zora weighed 195 pounds and was sharp as a razor. He knocked out Cooper in the second round. He was great that night. He can beat Clay."

Swift, Folley and trainer Johnny Hart are among the very few in town who believe the 34-year-old, No. 1 contender has a chance against the undefeated Clay at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night. Folley said he will weigh between 200 and 205.

Folley, a mild, stolid, modest man, almost has to be prodded to comment on the fight. He now says, "I will beat him by decision or knockout. I will be the next champion Wednesday night."

He says it as if making a memorized speech. A pro 13½ years and unbeaten in his last 12 fights, Folley has a 74-74 won-lost-draw record in his career.

There's still some in Lou Burdette's legs too. The 40-year-old pitcher, now in his 20th year of professional baseball, made his first exhibition game appearance Monday and beat out a bunt single.

Burdette's right arm appeared to be just as strong as his legs as he worked two innings and allowed only an infield hit in California's 6-2 victory over Cleveland at Palm Springs, Calif.

In other games, rookie Mike Epstein's three-run homer gave Baltimore a 4-2 victory over Cincinnati, San Francisco outslugged the Chicago Cubs 9-6, St. Louis topped Philadelphia 4-2, Boston nipped Pittsburgh 4-3, the Chicago White Sox beat the New York Mets 7-4, the New York Yankees edged Los Angeles 7-6 and Detroit downed Atlanta 5-4.

The Washington Senators didn't play, but they got some good news — pitcher Camilo Pascual signed, ending a 28-day holdout.

The veteran right-hander, who wanted the reported $46,500 he received last season with Minnesota, came to terms for an estimated $42,500.

Marcelino Lopez worked the first five innings for California, which ended a five-game losing streak. Jim Fregosi, Rick Reichardt and Jose Cardenal each collected a single and double for the Angels.

Epstein's homer came off Billy McCool in the fourth inning at Tampa, Fla., and tagged McCool, who is hoping to become a starting pitcher, with his third exhibition loss. Frank Robinson tripled and singled for Baltimore.

Willie Mays hit his first exhibition homer and extended his hitting streak through 10 games in San Francisco's victory over the Cubs at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Mike Shannon belted a two-run homer and Orlando Cepeda got two doubles and a single in leading St. Louis past Philadelphia at St. Petersburg, Fla., for the Cardinals' fourth straight victory.

including 40 knockout victories. He has been stopped five times. In boxing circles they whisper that "Folley blows the big ones. He doesn't have the heart. He'll freeze against Clay."

Clay has a 280 record, including 22 knockouts. Ernie Terrell went 15 rounds with Clay when the champion retained his title on a decision at Houston last Feb. 6. George Chuvalo also went the 15 round distance with Clay on March 29, 1966, and German Karl Mildenberger lasted 12 rounds until he was stopped on cuts last Sept. 10.

Clay, half serious and half joking, said Monday after his last workout that Folley might go 15 rounds.

"I'm not a knockout fighter — I can't punch," said Clay. "All I want to do is to box and dance, be artistic and show class. That way the advertisers can get a chance to show their commercials on television."

Then, in answer to questions, he said ominously (for Folley) that his condition, mental attitude and weight would be about the same as it was for his second fight with Sonny Liston.

He weighed 206 pounds on May 25, 1965 when he knocked out Liston in the first round with one controversial punch at Lewiston, Me.

Pro Cage Playoffs Will Open Tonight

By The Associated Press
The stage is set tonight for the National Basketball Association playoffs, and the spotlight will be on such stars as Wilt Chamberlain, Bill Russell, Oscar Robertson and Rick Barry.

But watch out for those guys in the wings. They're the Chicago Bulls, and they would like nothing better than to steal the show from anyone thought they would be in.

This looked like the year the Detroit Pistons would make the playoffs for the first time since 1962-63, but the Bulls, in their first NBA season, pulled off a major surprise by beating out the Pistons for the fourth and last playoff spot in the Western Division.

Early in the season, Player-Coach Richie Guerin of the St. Louis Hawks said of Chicago: "They'll be lucky to win 10 games this season."

But they did win 33 en route to a playoff berth, and if they win three more, Guerin and the Hawks will be through for the year.

The Hawks, second in the West, and Bulls meet tonight in St. Louis in the first game of a best-of-5 series.

Other first-round openers have Eastern Division winner Philadelphia at home against third-place Cincinnati, fourth-place New York at Eastern runner-up Boston and Western winner San Francisco at home against third-place Los Angeles.

The Bulls are led by veteran Guy Rodgers, obtained in a trade with San Francisco, who set an NBA assist record of 908 this season. St. Louis' strong point is offensive rebounding. This chore falls mainly to Zelmo Beatty, Bill Bridges and rookie Lou Hudson. Bridges and Beatty missed the last two regular season games because of injuries, but should be ready.

In the other Western games, San Francisco pits the shooting of Barry, the highest scoring forward in NBA history with 2,775 points this season, and the rebounding of Thurmond against the renowned clutch play of the Lakers' Jerry West and Elgin Baylor. However, West is hobbled by an ankle injury.

Philadelphia and Boston, the latter seeking its ninth straight world championship, figure to have little trouble advancing to a semifinal series against each other.

Johnny Roland Best Returner

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie Johnny Roland of St. Louis was the National Football League's punt return champion for 1966, according to official league statistics released today.

Roland returned 20 punts for 221 yards and a 11.1 average. John Robinson of Detroit had an average of 14.2 on 13 returns, one less than the qualifying minimum. That showing helped the Lions to the team title, with a total of 38 returns for 396 yards and a 10.4 average.

Tech Huskies On Honor Team

SYRACUSE (AP) — National Champion Cornell and Michigan Tech dominated the All-America hockey teams of the American College Hockey Coaches Association, the group announced today.

The coaches, meeting here in conjunction with last week's hockey championships of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, elected Eastern and Western teams.

Forward Doug Ferguson of Cornell, the only repeater on the East Squad, led a team that included teammates Key Dryden, defenseman Harry Orr, Dryden, a goalie and the only sophomore selected, set a tournament record by allowing only one goal in two games. He also led the nation with an average of 1.49 goals-against.

Tony Esposito of Michigan Tech, shared goalie honors on the West Team with teammate Rick Best.

Other Michigan Tech players were defenseman Bruce Riutta and forward Gary Milroy.

Tigers Beat Atlanta, Lose Dick McAuliffe

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Detroit beat Atlanta on errors but lost Dick McAuliffe for at least today's game with the New York Yankees.

The Braves committed five errors, and a passed ball on a strikeout led to their downfall as the Tigers tripped the National League club 5-4 in a Grapefruit League baseball game Monday night.

The game was tied 4-4 going into the top of the top of the ninth. Hank Aguirre, the winning pitcher in two innings of relief, walked but Jerry Lumpe hit into a double play.

Then Mickey Stanley struck out but got to first when Atlanta catcher John Hoffman let the ball get past him.

Dave Campbell singled and Willie Horton followed with a single that drove in Stanley with the winning run.

Atlanta tried to rally in the bottom of the ninth. Jim Beauchamp hit a long fly to center that Stanley snagged on the run.

"I almost over-ran it, Stanley said. "The wind pulled it back on me."

Adrian Garrett singled and Mack Jones lined to Campbell at first, who stepped on the bag for the double play.

Tiger pitchers gave up 12 hits while Detroit batters got only 10.

"McAuliffe pulled a muscle on a double," said Manager Mayo Smith. "He won't play Tuesday against the Yankees. Jerry Lumpe probably will. McAuliffe hurt his leg in the first inning and it's probably not bad but we can't tell yet."

Ray Oyler turned in a sparkling performance in the field. In the eighth inning he gobbled up three difficult balls and threw to first in time for the putouts as the Braves went down in order.

"I didn't do much the other way, so I thought I'd better do something on defense," he grinned.

Big Earl Wilson started for the Tigers and gave up five hits and struck out four in four innings. He walked two.

"Wilson looked all right," said Smith. "His breaking ball was good."

Bill Monbouquette followed Wilson and gave up six hits and three runs in three innings. He struck out three and didn't walk a man.

Monbouquette gave up a homer to Hoffman in the sixth. In the seventh Garrett singled and Jones hit a homer to tie the game.

"I felt good but I was wild," Monbouquette said.

The first Braves' run came in the first inning on a walk to Denis Menke and a double by Hank Aaron.

Detroit had started the first inning with a double by McAuliffe, who took third on Stanley's groundout and scored on a sacrifice fly by Norm Cash. Willie Horton then doubled and Jim Northrup singled him home.

The Tigers got another in the second when Oyler bunted, took second on a throwing error and third on a wild pitch. He came home when McAuliffe hit into a forceout at second but the relay to first was wild.

In the fourth Detroit scored when Wilson made first base on an error, took second on a sacrifice and scored on another wild throw to first base on Stanley's grounder.

Hunt Was Shook Up By Trade From Mets

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Buzze Bavasi, general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, thought he'd have a little fun when he telephoned Ron Hunt to welcome him to the Dodgers.

"Are you a left-handed hitter or a right-handed hitter?" Bavasi asked the scrappy second baseman, who was at his home in Overland, Mo.

Today, Hunt remembers neither Bavasi's question nor his answer. In fact, there's nothing much he remembers about last Nov. 29, the day the New York Mets sent him and Jim Hickman to Los Angeles for Tommy Davis and Derrell Griffith.

"I guess you could say I was pretty shook up about being traded," Hunt said while walking through a light rain toward the Dodger clubhouse. "I don't remember what I said or what anyone said to me. I recall telling Walter Alston that I'd give the Dodgers my best, but that's all."

"The phone started ringing, and everyone was asking me questions. I had to get out of there so I went hunting for three days. I was okay after that. I just needed time for it to sink in."

"Everything's okay now. I went to Los Angeles for four days before spring training, and I met some of the players. I just didn't want to start all over again after I spent four years with the Mets."

Hunt, 28, is the only Met ever to be selected to start in an All-Star Game. That was in 1964, his second season in the majors, when he batted .303.

The next year, however, he played in only 57 games because of a finger injury and then a shoulder separation. He bounced back brilliantly last year, hitting .288 as the Mets emerged from the National League cellar for the first time.

Despite the fact that Hunt was the most popular player among the Mets' many fans, he was mentioned in trade rumors for the past three years. When the rumors turned into reality, he was shook up not so much at leaving the team but at deserting the fans.

"I don't feel anything toward the ball club," he explained. "When we play them, I'll want to beat them."

Sports In Brief

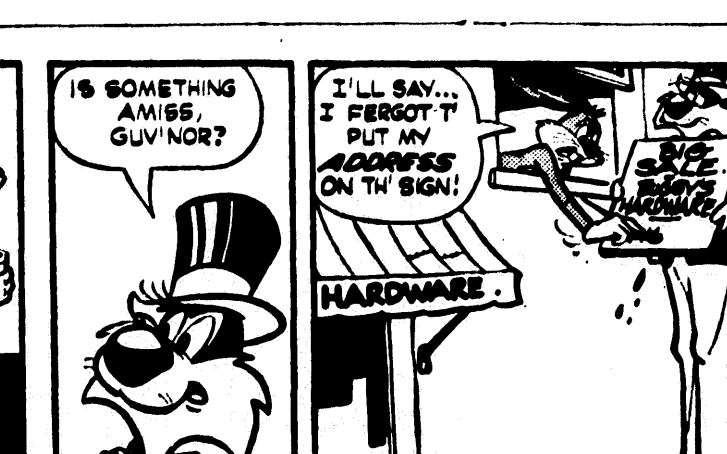

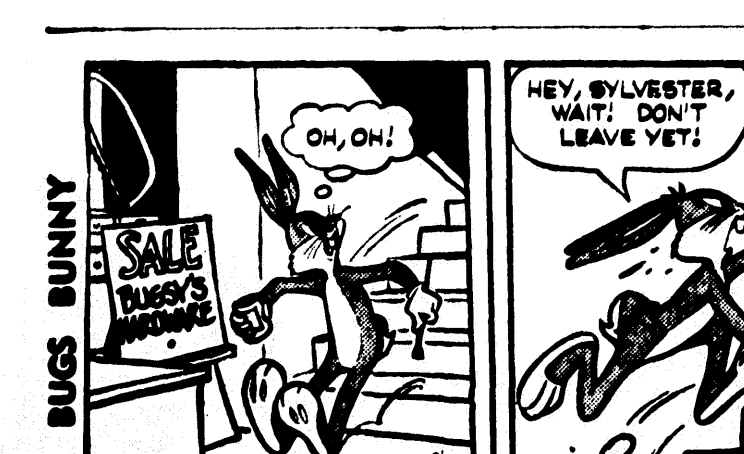

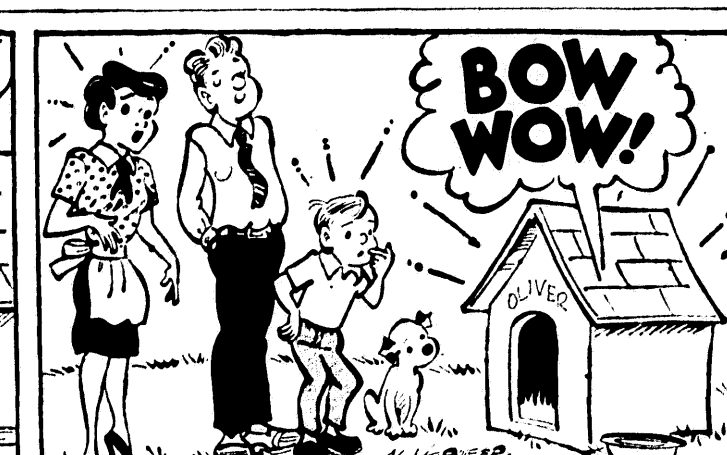

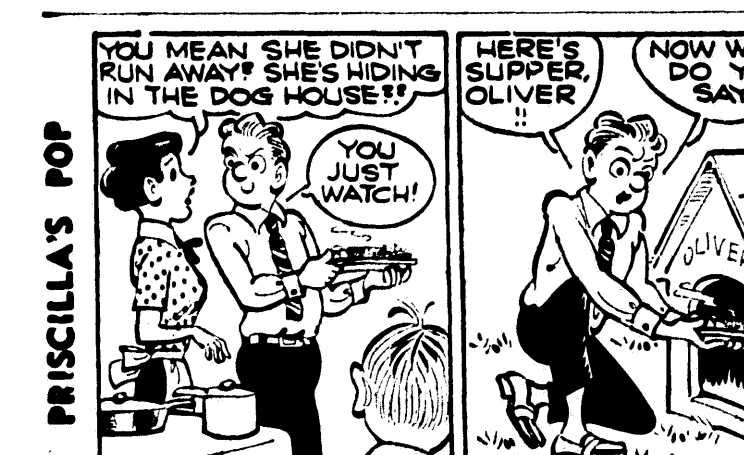

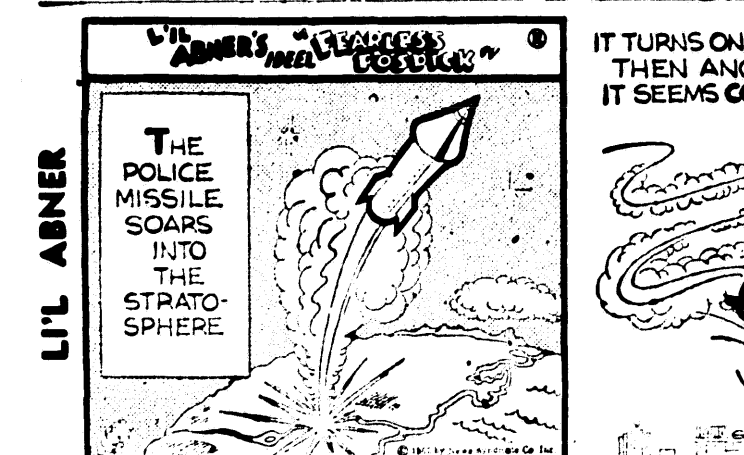

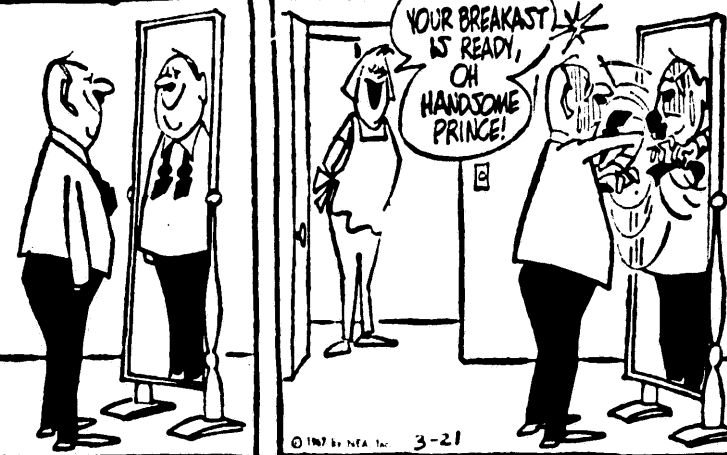

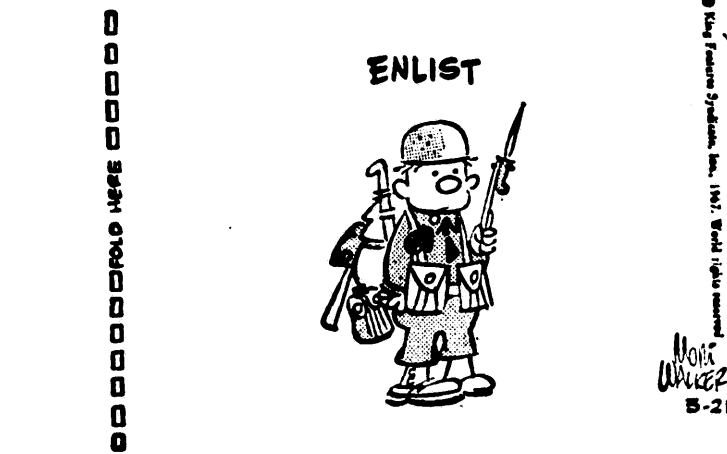

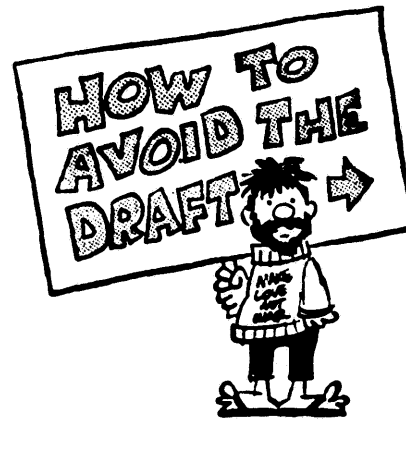

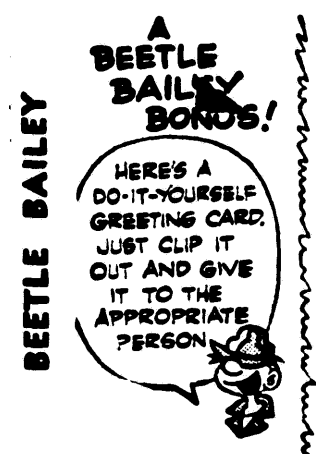

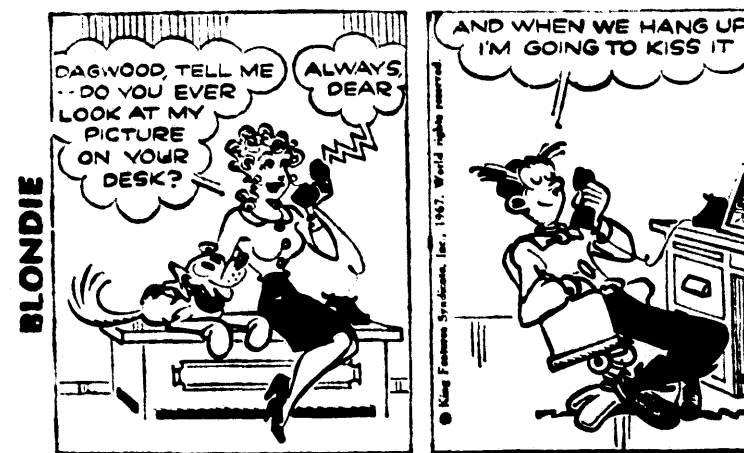

DETROIT (AP)—Rookie Dave Bing capped his first National Basketball Association season by leading the Detroit Pistons in scoring with 1,601 points in 80 games for a 20-point average. Dave DeBusschere was second with 1,423 points in 78 games for 18.2.

ALMA (AP)—Bill Klenk, assistant Alma basketball coach for the past two years, has been named head coach, succeeding Dr. Charles Gray who has coached the Scots for the past two seasons. Gray said he was stepping aside to devote more time to his duties as Alma athletic director.

Residents Enjoy 4-H Club Event

The Gladstone Community 4-H Club Achievement Program Saturday afternoon and evening at the Gladstone High School Gymnasium was well attended by local and area residents.

Open House in the afternoon gave the public an opportunity to view the many projects undertaken by the group. An interesting display of mammals included a live black squirrel. Action exhibits included clothing, knitting and gun safety. Mothers of the members served refreshments during the afternoon.

A diversified program, included a style show of clothing and knitting projects, selections by the chorus and presentation of awards.

Wallace Cameron, superintendent, and John Norton, principal of the Gladstone Schools, received awards for their cooperation with youth of the area. County pins in projects were awarded to Mary Jo DeKeyser, Kathy Hirm, Kathy Madden, Sheryl and Cindy LaFleur.

Kathy Madden, a member of the public speaking group, will present "The American Spirit" at the County Achievement Program at William Bonifas Auditorium Saturday. The 4-H Chorus will also present several selections.

Other program and talent act winners to appear on the County program will include "The Hill Billies", nine boys ranging in age from 9 to 12 who will present novelty instrumental and vocal selections; A play entitled, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs", narrated by Mary Jo DeKeyser; The Cats, presenting a dance number, and the Cloverettes singing a melody of Indian music.

Card of Thanks

Cherneski

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the many friends and relatives who were so kind during the illness and at the time of the death of our beloved husband, father and brother, Joseph Cherneski. We especially thank those who visited him and sent cards while he was a patient in Mercy Hospital, San Diego. We are deeply grateful to Rev. Robert Kennedy for his help and comfort for his mother - Broullier Funeral Home and the many friends who sent cards, Masses, flowers and gifts of food and money and all who assisted in any way at the time of the funeral. We shall always be grateful for the sympathy and comfort shown us.

Kolich

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and sympathy in our bereavement, the death of our dear mother, Katherine Kolich. We are grateful to Rev. Father Leno Zadra for his comforting words, to Doctor Piper, the nurses and nurses aides at Pinecrest Medical Facility and staff, the Degan Crawford Funeral Home, to those who sent spiritual bouquets, flowers, cards, gifts of food and money, those who offered the use of their cars and drove them and to all who helped in any way.

The Family of
Katherine Kolich

Mileski

A sincere thanks to all my friends and relatives who sent cards, gifts and visited me during my recent stay in St. Francis Hospital. To the sisters and priests for their comforting visits, to Dr. Ian Sayani, the nurses and nurses aides of 3rd floor South for their attention and kindness.

Jerome Mileski

State Farmers
Plan More Corn,
Soybeans in '67

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan farmers plan to plant more acres to corn and soybeans, but fewer to oats, beans, sugar beets and potatoes this year than they did last.

This was shown in an agriculture Department survey released Monday.

Michigan farmers reported they plan to devote 1,689,000 acres to corn, 3 per cent more than last year, and 537,000 acres, or 11 per cent more, to soybeans.

On the other hand, they expect to trim oat planting by 19 per cent, down to 496,000 acres; dry beans by 6 per cent, down to 613,000 acres; sugar beets by 2 per cent, down to 78,000 acres; and potatoes by 5 per cent, down to 48,800 acres.

Even though trimming her dry bean acreage by 6 per cent, Michigan still will plant almost three times that of the largest competitor dry bean producing state, Colorado. The latter state's farmers plan to plant 218,000 acres, compared with Michigan's 613,000 acres.

Ruby Wish: Gun To Be Placed In Nation Archives

DETROIT (AP)—Jack Ruby left an estate consisting of the pistol which killed Lee Harvey Oswald, a diamond watch, a diamond ring, a suit of clothes, a hat—and debts.

Ruby's assets were ticked off by Detroit attorney Alan Adelson, attorney for the estate, at a news conference Monday. Adelson put no value on the five personal items, nor did he disclose total debts.

The pistol, however, might have great value as a collector's item, and one offer of $30,000 has been made for the weapon, said the 33-year-old corporation lawyer.

Adelson said he would try to carry out Ruby's wish that the gun be placed in the National Archives, but that ultimate disposition will be up to Texas courts. The pistol now is in custody of Dallas District Attorney Henry Wade.

Fantastic Value

Unless ordered disposed of by the courts to meet Ruby's debts, Adelson said none of Ruby's assets would be sold, although it was his opinion they could be "of fantastic value in auction."

Millions of people watched on television as Ruby's gun pumped a fatal bullet into Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy, at the Dallas City Jail Nov. 24, 1963. Kennedy had been assassinated two days earlier by rifle fire as he rode in a Dallas political parade.

Ruby died of cancer last Jan. 3, in a Dallas hospital while awaiting a second trial in the Oswald slaying. In his fight to avoid a death or lifetime prison sentence, Ruby had fought long and in many courts.

Adelson estimated Ruby once was worth $250,000 through nightclub holdings. He operated two nightclubs in Dallas at the time of the Oswald slaying.

Ruby's watch, ring and suit may end up in hands of Herman Hooten, a Dallas prison guard, who will be permitted to offer as a modification to his will a written note from Ruby giving him the three items.

Agree On Will

Adelson said it was agreed by all interested parties in a Dallas court Friday that the true document was a will made by Ruby 16 years ago.

This was a will dated Aug. 24, 1950, which Dallas lawyer Jules F. Mayer said he found while cleaning his garage earlier this year. Mayer re-wrote the will at Ruby's request and had forgotten about it with the passing years. The will leaves half of Jack Ruby's estate to a sister, Mrs. Eileen Kaminski of Chicago; one fourth to a second sister, Mrs. Eva Grant of Dallas, and the remainder to a nephew, Ronald Magid.

Nixon Is Told To Read Marx

MOSCOW (AP)—A Red army major in Soviet central Asia told Richard M. Nixon Monday that instead of traveling around inquiring into political conditions he should stay home and read Karl Marx.

"You should get a textbook of Marxism and you'll find it has everything you need to know," the major, a member of an army theater group, said in a good-natured meeting at the airport in Samarkand.

Nixon, U.S. vice president under President Dwight D. Eisenhower, flew back to Moscow today from Samarkand, the medieval capital of Asian empires.

Nixon has been in the Soviet Union for four days as part of an extensive tour to study political conditions. Soviet leaders refused to meet him, but in West European countries he conferred with premiers and other leaders.

Tour

HOUGHTON—A group of 100 mechanical engineering students at Michigan Tech will leave here Tuesday for the annual three day tour of industrial facilities in Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin. The group is divided into three sections with each going to a different area. One will visit Milwaukee and Chicago, another Detroit and the third the Saginaw Valley.

35 States Now Tax Incomes

LANSING (AP)—If the state Legislature decides to pass a state tax on personal income this year, Michigan's citizens would be joining a group of American taxpayers that is far from exclusive.

Figures compiled recently by the research section of the State Department of Revenue indicate that 35 states—including several of the nation's most populous—levy a state tax on individual income.

Taxes on corporation income are levied by 38 states, and 26 states and the district of Columbia have both a sales and a personal income tax.

The Michigan House and Senate currently are studying a fiscal reform package proposed by Gov. George Romney calling for a 2 per cent tax on personal income, 5 per cent on corporations and 8 per cent on financial institutions.

Romney also has asked for a three-cent per pack increase in cigarette taxes—boosting the tax from the present 7 cents to 10 cents.

However, he has proposed some relief for prospective income tax payers in the form of credits or rebates on the 4 per cent sales tax, which now provides the main source of Michigan's income, and credit on property taxes.

Whether Romney's program will pass the Legislature in the same form as proposed, or whether it will pass at all, is still open to speculation.

However, here is a look at how taxpayers in some other states fare:

Surprisingly enough, only two of Michigan's close neighbors levy a tax on personal income—Indiana and Wisconsin. Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois have no personal income tax.

Pennsylvania does, however, tax corporation income.

Orem Wharton, research analyst for the Department of Revenue, says Indiana's 2 per cent tax is the only true flat rate income tax among the 35 states levying such taxes. The rest are graduated in varying degrees.

Wharton says Wisconsin's income tax, beginning with 2.7 per cent on the first $1,000 and rising to 10 per cent on anything over $14,000 is among the highest in the nation.

New York's tax starts at 2 per cent and rises to 10 per cent as does New Jersey's.

Delaware's tax starts at 1.5 per cent and rises to a top of 11 per cent, but the state levies no sales or use taxes. Hawaii starts at 2.25 per cent and tops out at 11 per cent. Minnesota starts at 1.5 per cent and rises to 12 per cent.

Perhaps the most unique income tax system is that of Alaska, where citizens' state tax bills amount to 16 per cent of their federal income tax. If an individual paid $1,000 in federal income tax, he would owe $160 in state tax.

The three-cent boost in the cigarette tax would place Michigan near the top in that area.

New Jersey, Texas and Washington now tax cigarettes at a rate of 11 cents per pack, while Massachusetts, New York, Vermont and Wisconsin charge 10 cents.

Hawaii taxes cigarettes at the rate of 40 percent of the wholesale price and New Hampshire at 21 per cent of the retail price. North Carolina alone among the 50 states has no cigarette tax.

Sales and use taxes are levied by 41 states and range from 2 per cent in seven states to a high of 5 per cent in Pennsylvania.
